

QA Specialist

We're looking for passionate, skilled, self-motivated and easygoing QA Specialist (0-2 years of experience) for our development team.

Candidates should have following qualifications:

1. University degree in Computer Science or related fields,
2. Experience in software test planning, documentation and process improvement,
3. Test automation experience using tools like RedwoodHQ, JMeter, TestNG, Selenium etc.
4. Experience with bug tracking tools such as Jira or others,
5. Basic experience on HTML, CSS, JS, XML, SOAP, Web Service
6. Good command of English to research and learn new technologies
7. Problem solving abilities and analytical thinking
8. No military obligation for male candidates

When applying, please include as many of the following as possible:

1. Brief description of your skills, passions and work style
2. Link to your blog that may include your thoughts on software testing concepts

Job Description:

We are seeking team members to join our development team as QA Specialist to work on company R&D office.

- Propose test strategy options that address the quality needs of the users,
- Collaborate with all team members, including business analysts, developers, operations and business to understand the business requirements, technical implementation and determine the best way to test the solution,
- Create test scenarios and test cases in collaboration with other team members,
- Collaborate with team members on the definition of acceptance criteria,
- Developing and maintaining automated functional tests, using appropriate tools (such as Selenium). Extending and maintaining the regression test suite,
- Working with DevOps team to set-up the testing environment,
- Giving feedback to DevOps team to set-up alerting functionality for the developed products

Please apply to: hr@sekomyazilim.com.tr